

October 11, 2001

IDG'S CIO Magazine Announces Address by Nasdaq Chief Information Officer on 9-11 Disaster Recovery Effort at CIO Magazine Conference;

SECTION: FINANCIAL NEWS

On October 15, 2001, Nasdaq CIO and Executive Vice President of IT and Operations* Gregor Bailer will address CIOs, CEOs and other business executives at CIO magazine's 25th Perspectives Conference. Bailer will speak about his September 11th experiences, namely how he was able to lead his company in recovering and preparing for the September 17th reopening of the stock market. He will tell executive attendees about the distributed systems, contingency planning, architecture and dedicated staff that made it possible for Nasdaq to resume trading six days after the terrorist attacks. Bailer's presentation is on Monday, October 15, 2001, at 1:45pm PT.

CIO magazine's 25th CIO Perspectives Conference, "Different Voices/Shared Visions: Getting Alignment Right," kicks off October 14th at the Westin Mission Hills Resort in Rancho Mirage, CA. In light of the September 11th terrorist attacks and the ripple effect on the US economy, CIO magazine will address the renewed importance of disaster recovery and business continuity. CIO is hosting an interactive discussion panel, "Town Meeting: Changing Priorities for a New Reality," on Monday, October 15, 2001, at 8:15am PT.

Panelists include:

- Andrea Anania, Senior Vice President and CIO, Cigna Corp.
- Robert M. Cohen, Vice President, Information Services and CIO, AstraZeneca
- Roger K. Mowen, Vice President, Global Customer Services Group and CIO, Eastman Chemical
- Janey A. Place, PhD, Executive Vice President, eCommerce Strategy, Mellon Financial Corporation

*NOTE TO EDITORS:

Gregor Bailer is accepting a new position as CIO at Capital One, effective November 15, 2001.